ISO9001:2015 was released in September 2015 by ISO and December in the same year by the Department Standards of Malaysia. While full implementation is a matter of time, early upgrade initiative will definitely place the organization ahead of other competitors. SUP (System Upgrading Program) is a fuss-free holistic package designed to assist organizations in achieving this pioneer status, allowing them to claim the title "First to be Certified", a testimony of their strategic quality commitment.

"Myocho has proven himself as a dedicated, result-oriented and humble consultant, with great interpersonal skills that enable him to attract cooperation and responsive actions from our personnel. He has also successfully simplified the processes of MACOMRAD's operations and provided effective training programs with regards to ISO9001 standard," – Masahiro Tsubokawa, Director, Panasonic Compressor R&D Sdn. Bhd.

"Given good examples and samples for improvement. Strongly recommended for others," – SF Thum, Loh & Loh Berhad

"Very impressive and creative training. Saved and simplified a lot on documentations. Helped me understand ISO better,"
 – Ooi Syn Yee, AsPac Lubricants (formerly Castrol)
